FLORAL DESIGN 101 with Karen Hauwiller

Would you like to enter a design in a flower show and know what the judges are looking for? Floralia is sponsoring a series of classes that will teach you the basics of design.

This is class three of the series and will teach you how to create a vertical line mass design taught by an accredited flower show judge.

The class will include a demonstration and a hands-on opportunity to create a vertical line mass design. You will learn design basics, tips and tricks on mechanics and what you need in your design toolbox. Fee includes container and plant material. Bring your own pruners/clippers and 3 inch needlepoint. There will be a few needlepoints available for sale at the class.

Fee $25

Make check out to FLORALIA and send to:
